

QUEEN CHARLOTTE COLLEGE

Newsletter to Parents, Caregivers & Friends of the School • 9 December 2010

Last week we had the Year 10 students away on camp. EOTC activities are a wonderful opportunity for our students to learn in an environment outside the classroom. Perhaps the most valuable part of the camps is how the new environment changes the dynamics of the groups you see around the school.

I thank you unreservedly for your support throughout 2010. The readiness to discuss matters with me that are of concern for you or your student throughout the year has been appreciated. We try very hard to add value to every student's education and strive to support all students toward their personal best in all endeavours. You have been a major part in this process and I thank you.

Have a happy and safe holiday. I look forward to seeing you all at the start of the 2011 school year.
